Event Info

Carolina Classics at the Capital features hundreds of classic cars lining the city's famed Fayetteville Street. Stretching almost one-third of a mile, Fayetteville Street connects North Carolina's State Capital Building (to the north) with the city's performing arts center (to the south). With its historic buildings and vibrant retail and dining options, Fayetteville Street is the ideal cityscape for displaying the great cars and trucks of yesteryear.

Just one block west is the newly renovated Raleigh Convention Center. That's where you'll see even more cars and classic car parts vendors, all under one roof in a cool, climate-controlled setting. The Convention Center features first-class amenities like state-of-the-art sound and lights, digital connectivity and 12 loading docks. In all, 150,000 square feet of space will be available to exhibitors for the three-day event.

Classic Block Party

If you're part of a group of classic car fans that loves to travel, display and hang out together at car shows, make sure you call and reserve one of Downtown Raleigh's city blocks for this year's Classics at the Capital show. That's right! In 2011 your friends at Classics at the Capital will help you host your very own Block Party in downtown Raleigh. You must have ten (10) cars or more to reserve a city street, and space is limited, so reserve yours early. Contact Greg Cox at 919-896-7448 for more details and availability.

Round-the-clock security will be provided in all areas by local law enforcement and other City of Raleigh personnel.

- Hundreds of classic cars
- Parts vendors
- $10 Convention Center admission ($5 on Sneak Peak Friday)
- A KidsZone open Saturday & Sunday
- Ample public parking in garage lots near the show
